

NEWS & VIEWS

Taking Ethical and Environmental Values to the Heart of The Young Indians

Centre for Action, Research & Technology for Man, Animal & Nature (CARTMAN), founded by late Prof.N.S.Ramaswamy our first Patron, organizes programmes aimed at empowering young Indians. This summer a weeklong Creativity Camp was held in May under the stewardship of President of India award winning teacher Smt.Radha Kulkarni. Training at the Creative Camp consisted of Yoga & meditation, patriotic songs, drawing of nature, birds & animals, origami, theme dances, etc., to kindle the creative power in the heart of the young participants.

On the occasion of World Environment Day, a three day environment and biodiversity awareness programme was conducted for school children at the CARTMAN Eco Park. Environmentalist Sri T.N.K.Kurup took the children to the world of plant and animal life through a pictorial exhibition and audio visual show. Smt.Radha Kulkarni took open air class in question answer format on various aspects of environment and biodiversity, stressing their importance for the survival of earth and all inhabitants there including the human population.

Yoga session at Creativity Camp

Biodiversity exhibition

Opening the heart - Smt. Radha Kulkarni taking environment awareness to the heart of the young participants

A section of the participants